MAINE TOWNSHIP RECOVERY CONNECTION

A new resource for young people in recovery

RECOVERY CAN BE HARD

Recovery from addiction is a lifelong journey. For young adults, it can be especially difficult.

THE MAINE TOWNSHIP RECOVERY CONNECTION

recognizes the challenges, temptations and obstacles young people face as they try to get clean and sober and stay that way.

MTRC CAN HELP

We've connected with local treatment centers, educators, social service agencies, and, most importantly, 18-32 year-olds who are successfully living in recovery. An important part of recovery for young adults is learning to have fun without drugs and alcohol. We aim to provide weekend social activities and outings along with recovery meetings, relapse prevention programs, and practical life skills so participants have all the resources they need to transition back into the real world as responsible young adults. The assistance and resources we connect young people with can help them to grow and flourish in sobriety, and become well-rounded, productive members of our community.

A new resource for young people in recovery
